Post Test: Developing Ideas in Non-Fiction

1. Read and annotate the attached article. Then, use the article and your annotations to respond to the following questions. (Annotations are worth 50 points – graded for higher level thinking.)

Use another piece of paper if you do not have enough space here.

$50 - 8 = 42/50$

2. Identify at least three groups who are in disagreement in this article.

1st group 13 yr. old boy 5th AIDS Law project

2nd group ABC news ✓

3rd group Randa Goldstein □ who is that and the lawyer they paid for

4th group Hershey School officials △

Locate, label (color code) or write the line or phrase in the article that helped you identify each of these groups.

(on article)

administrators spokesperson lawyer parents students
 staff

9/10

3. What belief systems (or goals) are clashing, at least on the surface of this article?

The belief that people with HIV are dangerous (Hershey School). Another is that Hershey School is prejudice towards people with AIDS (13 yr. old boy & AIDS project). 13 yr. old boy is a potential threat towards others health. The school believes they have the right to say 'no' to protect their interests. The boy & his lawyer believe he has the right to be accepted.

8/10

4. What is driving the reactions of at least 2 of the groups? (What is each involved group afraid of? Or what else is motivating them – follow a logical train of thought to get to deeper, more universal motivations.)

one group: 13 yr old boy driven by fears loss of _____ and _____ the violation of his rights.

8/10

Another group: Hershey school is driven by the protection of its students health and safety and to protect their financial bottom line

Aids law Project: motivated by the violation of the Americans with disabilities act by Hershey school and at all institutions towards all disabled people.
